FOUR PROHIBITION AGENTS investigating New York speakeasies and cabarets spent $75,000 in a short time.

They padlocked a few institutions, just as the old lady succeeded in mopping up a few pailsful of the ocean.

For champagne the agents paid $42 a bottle, for ginger ale $1.75. Even at that price, they must have been thirsty. They took their wives along. Perhaps the ladies drank the ginger ale.

Taxpayers must understand that you can't spend an evening in Texas Guinan's for nothing.

All Wall Street's little stocks had wings yesterday, or nearly all. They flew up joyously, undismayed by dear money.

It's all very well to put up interest rates in Wall Street. But that brings in money lenders from the Middle West and Europe, eager to get the 7 and 8 per cent.

As sea gulls fly inland to gobble up field mice, destroying pastures a thousand miles from the ocean, so distant money lenders flock to Wall Street and spoil the game of the "Big Boys."

Wall Street believes that Hoover is elected already and yesterday bet 3 to 1 on the Republican candidate.

Wall Street is mistaken occasionally. It was betting 4 to 1 against Woodrow Wilson after Woodrow Wilson was actually elected. The odds will change before November.

Russia names a dictator, with absolute power over crops, their production and distribution.

Our farmers will watch that experiment for the benefit of producer and consumer, but will not want any crop dictatorship here.

The thing that reconciles a farmer to his lot is the fact that he is his own boss.

Tell him that others must decide what he shall plant, what price he shall ask, and he will join the crowd to the cities.

Men do not farm merely for profit. They farm because land ownership and management, plus independence, give them intense pleasure. If profit were the only inducement, there would be no farmers.

Rush of money almost swamped the big telephone and telegraph company yesterday. Stockholders, eager to buy more stock, paid in $56,000,000 in a few hours.

The company, having taken in $150,000,000 of new money, is now the biggest privately-owned company in the world.

A. T. & T. has assets of three and a half billion dollars. Considering its monopoly of telephone ownership in the United States, you know that its potential value runs far above ten billions.

And a little while ago Uncle Sam was prosecuting poor mamma Standard Oil because she was climbing toward one little billion.

All is for the best, however, in the best possible of worlds. S. O. is now worth several times what it was previous to the prosecution.

Some human beings passionately desire "to get even." A high-spirited Japanese will perform "hara-kari" on the doorstep of a man who has insulted him.

The insulted one goes to the other's doorstep, rips open his abdomen and dies, believing he has vengeance on the other one.

LERNER WINS DANCE MARATHON

40 Hotel Guests Flee Revere Fire

LERNER FINISHES MARATHON 4 MILES AHEAD OF WISEMAN

Wearing out a half-dozen girl partners and one pair of shoes, Louis Lerner, Boston dancing instructor, won the 46-mile Providence-to-Boston dance marathon today.

The long-distance dance ended at 12:23 p. m. in front of the Hotel Touraine, while thousands of onlookers blocked traffic in all directions at Boylston and Tremont sts.

Lerner's elapsed time, with his series of hard-fought dual partners, was 23 hours and 23 minutes, the start having been made at 12:00 m. from Providence City Hall. He was physically and mentally exhausted at the finish.

At the finish line Lerner led Harry Wiseman, who originated the idea, by about four miles. Wiseman, dancing at the finish with Flora Fontaine, the girl with whom he started, ended his dance in Park sq. at 2:26 o'clock, exactly 14 hours out of Providence.

BOSTON SIZZLES AT 88; BEACHES ARE THRONGED

Crowds stormed the beaches today, Nantasket and Revere seeing the biggest weekday throngs of the Summer, as the mercury soared to 88 in the official tubes at the weather bureau and rose above 90 at many places in the streets.

No relief is in sight, according to the forecaster, although showers are predicted for northern New England.

Gentle southwest winds are blowing on the Hub and are largely responsible for the scorching day. It seemed to workers as if the oft-blamed humidity was getting in its licks, but the official report read "humidity normal."

LIGGETT'S PLANE HUNT OFF; EMPLOYES FOUND

An airplane hunt planned by Louis K. Liggett, president of the United Drug Co., for two employes reported missing in the woods of New Hampshire, was called off today when he was informed that the men had been found in Fryeburg, Me.

The missing men, Roscoe K. Fowler of Logansport, Ind., and Fritz R. Aurenz, Sugihaw, Mich., salesmen for the United Drug Co., were said to have wandered away from the vicinity of North Conway, N. H., where they were spending their vacations, and to have passed the night in the woods.

Liggett, on learning of their disappearance, cancelled a scheduled flight to Dixville Notch, N. H., where his executives are in session, and prepared to make an airplane search for the missing men.

On being told that they had come out of the woods safely, he took off as scheduled for Dixville Notch, piloted by Capt. Leroy Pon Ton D'Arcy of the Old Colony Airways, Inc.

GERMAN FOUR-OARED CREW BEATS HARVARD

Sloten, Holland, Aug. 2 (AP)—With the University of California eight-oared crew sweeping to victory by eight lengths over Belgium and the Harvard four-oared combination with coxswain losing by a scant three feet to Germany, American oarsmen this afternoon wound up the first day of the Olympic rowing regatta with three races won and one lost.

The big California eight looked unbeatable in sweeping to easy victory over the Belgians in the fast time of 6 minutes 21 1-5 seconds for the 2000-meter course over the sluggish waters of the Sloten Canal.

Harvard and the young crew that holds the championship of Germany waged a merry battle which ended with the American prow crossing

FLIER COURTNEY AND MILLIONAIRE BACKER MISSING IN MID-OCEAN

(By the Associated Press)

Capt. Frank T. Courtney and three companions on an attempted seaplane flight from the Azores to Newfoundland made a forced landing on the Atlantic today and the first ocean liner to reach the position from which they called for help failed to locate them.

Courtney's plane landed in the ocean early this morning and in response to radio calls for assistance all steamers anywhere in the vicinity turned from their courses to give [illegible] assistance.

RITZ DANCE HALL BURNED TO GROUND

Probe was ordered to determine the origin of the blaze which razed this building and spread to Hotel Pleasanton next door. The hostelry is seen in the background.

chusetts ave., Cambridge; Miss Hazel Mayell, same address, and Miss Catherine Gillooly with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Gillooly, both of Springfield.

Miss Gillooly told the police a gold watch had been stolen from her room, and another guest reported the loss of a pocketbook containing $100.

The fire is said to have started in a concession stand operated under the dance hall by Miss Ida Wallace, at the Ocean ave. and Cove st. corner of the building. Fed by several other stands located in the same building, the flames roared up through the dance hall and spread to the hotel.

The 90 rooms of the hotel were filled to capacity with guests and tenderers when the fire spread to the structure. The dance hall burned like incense and clouds of smoke poured into the hotel, filling the corridors and finding its way into the rooms, endangering the lives of the sleeping guests.

Police and firemen, some of them equipped with smoke masks, ran through the halls, battering down doors and carrying the guests to the street. Within three minutes after the first fire alarm was sounded, Chief McCarrick had sounded three additional alarms.

With the dance hall doomed, the firemen turned their attention to the adjoining buildings, and after a valiant fight checked the progress of the flames down the climsy row of concession stands and amusement places.

Joseph Smith, night watchman at the Spanish Gables, a dance hall near the Ritz dance hall, discovered the fire and notified the police. Motorcycle Officer Al Anderson sounded the first alarm and within a few moments a score of Revere and Metropolitan police were at the scene.

So quickly did the flames spread that the police were forced to work at top speed to rescue the hotel guests. The guests had no time to dress and they were carried or assisted to the street in their sleeping garments.

FIREMAN INJURED

The night manager of the hotel, Mrs. Ellen Boyce, came near losing her life when she remained behind in her room long enough to gather together some bags of money and some valuable papers.

John J. Dyer, Jr., son of the former chief of the Revere police department, Patrolman Amos McCauley and Inspector John Starkey carried more than a dozen guests through the smoke filled halls to the street. State Senator Andrew Casassa, president of the Revere Beach Chamber of Commerce, was early on the scene, and he, too, aided in the work of rescue.

Others who carried guests from the hotel were Metropolitan Officer Walter F. Rodgers, Inspector Dondis, Capts. Sted Metropolitan Officer Spence, Foreman William Cheas of Engine 2 of Revere suffered a lacerated hand while he was breaking down a door. The injury was dressed at the scene of the fire by City Physician Harry Friedman.

A number of women and children who were left shelterless by the fire were taken to the Metropolitan police station, a short distance away and were kept there until daylight.

LEAPS FROM WINDOW

Arthur Kirby is the owner of the Pleasanton Hotel and also of the Ritz Dance Hall, but the dance hall was leased by him to the firm of Bonner & Goldman and was run as a separate business.

The loss, according to the authorities, will amount to approximately $15,000.

Quartered in the hotel was Prince Ali, an Indian prince, and members of his troupe who are filling an engagement at one of the beach concessions. A member of the troupe, becoming panic stricken, leaped from the third floor of the hotel building but escaped serious injury.

The smoke filled the rooming house at No. 56 Boulevard st. and forced the occupants to flee to the street. This rooming house is above a concession stand and it was saved from destruction by the work of the firemen.

DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

The guests at the Pleasanton Hotel who were driven out by the fire included Marguerite Lewis, New Milford, Pa.; Mrs. H. Danforth and son, Keene, N. H.; Mrs. Dixon, Keene, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ballou, Keene, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Legal, Montreal; J. J. Lelieora, Montreal; J. J. Lelieora and wife, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Leslie, Hartford, Ct.; P. H. Schafer, Dayton, O.; W. L. White, Old Orchard, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mack, Worcester; Miss Anastasia Hardy, Cambridge; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Clark, Utica, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Harle; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lindbergh, Castle Island.

From the rooming house at No. 58 Boulevard st., a number of tenants were driven to the street. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Rosenthal and five children; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gelpey and two children.

Half-Million Lockout in British Mills Saved by One-Arm Officer

Manchester, Eng., Aug. 2 (AP)—Robert Stafford, a one-armed probation officer who used to work in a cotton mill, saved half a million workers from being locked out and prevented possible disaster to the Lancashire cotton industry.

The lockout was to have been effective Aug. 11, the mill owners having decreed it when a strike started in the Ramsey mill because that establishment refused to discharge a workman who had allowed his union membership to lapse. Stafford said he heard two women discussing the situation. One of them said:

"Half a million people are going to be out of work. That means that a million and a half women and children will suffer. What about them?"

Stafford said that this conversation was "enough for me, and after hearing it I had to do my best to get that man back into the union." He did.

Castle Island House Burned

A one-story wooden structure on Castle Island, owned by the Park Department of the City of Boston and occupied by Patrick Connolly, was destroyed by fire today. Damage is estimated at $700. Connolly was driven out by the flames. Visitors assisted in extinguishing the blaze.

LINERS SEARCH IN MID-OCEAN FOR COURTNEY PLANE

been scouring the waters in the position Courtney gave.

Courtney's radio call for help gave his position as latitude 42 north and longitude west 41 or about 500 miles northwest of the Azores.

First Word of Mishap Came From Berengaria

New York, Aug. 2—First word that the Courtney plane was down in the Atlantic was relayed by the liner Berengaria at 6 a. m. today.

The Radio Marine Corporation received a second radiogram from the British steamship Bristol saying that Courtney's wireless operator had asked for help, but said he was in no immediate danger.

Courtney and three companions hopped off at Horta at 4.55 p. m. yesterday (Azores time) on an 1800-mile flight to Newfoundland.

Courtney has previously made several unsuccessful attempts to get off. On July 9, he flew about 300 miles toward Newfoundland but was forced to turn back because of heavy fogs.

Weather conditions at the take-off yesterday were excellent.

Courtney's companions on the flight are E. H. Hosmer, wealthy Montreal banker who is backing the flight, Fred Pierce, mechanic, and E. W. Gilmour, of Glasgow, radio operator.

During the world war, Courtney distinguished himself as a member of the Royal Flying Corps, though he was shot down by the German ace, Immelmann.

Courtney arrived here from Lisbon on June 28 after an uneventful 1100-mile flight. He was first delayed by unfavorable weather and later it was found the plane could not take off because its hull was fouled by sea-fungi.

Courtney used a Dornier-Napier flying boat, or seaplane, equipped with pontoons. The plane carried a radio apparatus manned by Gilmour, an expert operator. Before leaving the Azores the plane was carefully overhauled and the pontoons scraped to rid them of all superfluous weight.

The length of time that the plane could remain afloat was problematical, depending upon the weather and water. In calm water, experts said, the plan might remain afloat indefinitely or until weakened by the battering of the mid-ocean waves.

It was in the same region that Ruth Elder's plane was forced down last year while she and George Haldeman, her pilot, were attempting a flight from America to Europe.

The distance from Courtney's starting point in the Azores to Newfoundland is approximately 1800 miles.

A transatlantic race between Courtney and the Spanish around-the-world airman, Ramon Franco, appeared in prospect, as both hopped off the same day. Franco, who left Cadiz, Spain, yesterday, was forced down at Huelva, Spain.

RAIDED DOCTOR FINED $125

Dr. George P. Paschall, whose apartment in Broad st., Lynn, was raided a few days ago, in Lynn court today was found guilty of keeping and exposing liquor for sale and was fined $125. He appealed.

At the time of the raid, in which 2½ gallons of alcohol were seized, the officers confiscated a prescription book said to contain the names of many prominent citizens of Lynn, which Deputy Chief of Police Callahan attempted to introduce at the trial. He stated he was reliably informed that certain of the names were those of persons who had departed this earth some time ago, but Judge Edward O'Brien ruled them out.

INSPECTORS SCORED AT STREET R. R. HEARING

A scathing broadside against inspectors on the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway that charged them with "putting the road in the dumps," injected a lively tilt into the carmen's wage hearing at the State House today.

James J. Duggan of Peabody, witness told the board of arbitration of several instances where employes were "called on the carpet" by inspectors for minor infractions.

HUB VALUATIONS DROP; CUT IN TAX LOOMS

A reduction of $1 from the tax rate of $30 may be expected when the new Boston rate is announced in the next two or three weeks, unless indications fail.

The assessors, Edward T. Kelly, Neal J. Holland and Horace Mann, while still uncertain of the amount of new and increased valuations developing this year, are positive, however, that there will be a marked drop in valuations in various parts of the city.

The assessors also figure that large revenue amounts must be sacrificed on account of petitions for cancellations or heavy cuts of betterments hitherto in connection with widening in recent years of Cambridge and Court sts. and Dock and Faneuil Hall sqs.

According to the assessors, the business section of the city north of Court st. is falling to disclose the improvement in valuation predicted at the time of the widenings, and building operations have gradually eased off. Only a comparatively few large business buildings are coming completely under taxation for the first time.

Readily rising valuations in a dozen outlying sections of the city are an offset to the other conditions, property values having increased in virtually all business colonies in outlying districts.

The administration is to stand by its refusal to apply to tax rate reduction the $5,000,000 received in back taxes this year and also the $848,446 which the state recently turned over to the city as its share of the Elevated's reimbursement of another installment of $5,000,000 lent to it in 1919.

'GANG' JUDGES TODAY PICK 'WHEEZER'

Today is "wheezer" day at the Orpheum Theater.

For the third time the judges buckled down to pick another "double" of "Our Gang" in the Boston Evening American resemblance contest in which more than 3000 New England children are entered.

The two "doubles" of the gang already picked by the judges are John Leonard Tarlow, 10-year-old Gloucester boy as "Fatty" and nine-year-old Paul R. Millov of 12 Castlegate rd., Roxbury, as "Freckles."

Paul informed the contest editor, after the judges had chosen him that his "gang" in Roxbury calls him "Buck." Then he proceeded to do a few cartwheels and the blackbottom backstage at the Orpheum theater to the amusement of not only the judges and theater attaches, but also of the actors and actresses on the bill there.

They agreed that "Buck" is a whole show in himself. And what a smile "Buck" has!

The semifinals for New England stemmed down to Russell Hancox, 11 years, of 15 Baxter st., Medford, whose father, Samuel, is a machinist, and young Miller, whose dad is a taxi-driver.

Then the judges, consisting of

THIS IS "WHEEZER'S" DAY AND THEY'RE "WHEEZERS"

These three entrants in the "Wheezer" part of the "Our Gang" contest made the task faced by the judges today even more difficult. There were scores of other little embryo "Wheezers" on the job, too. These are, in order, Joseph Macarelli of 82 Salisbury st., Watertown; Marshall Wood, 123 Gilbert rd., Belmont, and Jackie Spencer, 305 Main st., Saugus. They all look like perfect little gentlemen, but then—boys will be boys, so you never can tell what moment any reg'lar feller is apt to turn impish. The judges have thus far selected a "Fatty" and a "Freckles" from among the thousands of children who want to be understudies for the popular members of "Our Gang."

THIRD SUSPECT IN BLUE HILLS ROBBERY HELD

John A. McLellan, 28, of Roslindale, third suspect of the alleged trio led by a blonde girl charged with robbing Peter McGinnis, 24, Brockton shoe worker, in the Blue Hills, was arraigned in Quincy court today.

His case was continued until tomorrow, the same date as that of Rita B. Coskirk, 26, of Hyde Park, and John F. Coakley, 27, of Roslindale, arraigned yesterday. Bail was set at $2000 for John Avery.

McGinnis told police that the trio offered to give him a lift to Brockton, but when a lonely spot in the Blue Hills was reached, the two men ordered him from the car and robbed him. With the girl at the wheel, the machine carrying the two robbers shot away.

Later police arrested Miss Coskirk and Coakley in a machine in the Blue Hills reservation, after which they picked up McLellan.

HOLD 2 YOUTHS FOR DEATH OF SOLDIER

Two of the five youths accused in connection with the death of Kaie Solari, Camp Devens infantryman, in Somerville Sunday night, were held for the grand jury today on a manslaughter charge in Somerville District Court, while the other three were freed of the charge.

Those held are Percy Graves, 20, of Mystic st., Somerville, and his cousin, William Graves, 22, of Moreland st., Charlestown. Bail of $10,000 was set in each case.

The youths dismissed from custody are James Tolt, 19, of Highland ave., Somerville; George Walsh, 19, of Main st., Medford, and Thomas Finnegan, 22, of Moreland st., Somerville.

The revised police version of the affair is that Solari and another soldier went to Saxton C. Foss park, Somerville, to meet two girls Sunday night. The girls failed to appear and Solari tried to pick up an acquaintance with two others. There was a quarrel with the girls, followed by a quarrel between Solari and Thomas Finnegan, who was nearby with his friends.

Finnegan was bruised over the eye by a blow from Solari's fist, police say, but the trouble was patched up and the pair shook hands. The soldiers then started for Devens over the road, but stopped at Powder House Park, where they were talking with a girl when the five youths arrived.

The soldiers ran for a nearby drug store, but Solari was overtaken before he could reach it. Percy Graves and he fought and William Graves stepped in and struck Solari. The soldier died of a fracture at the base of the skull. The other three youths, although present, struck no blows, according to the police.

The pharmacy was not identified with the complaint against the girl, who pleaded guilty to the charge and her case placed on file when she explained that illness prevented the return of the rented books.

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP)—An electric roadster, powered by storage batteries and an electric motor with an output of three and a half horse power that will attain 30 miles an hour for 150 miles, has been made here and delivered to Col. E. H. Greene of New Bedford, son of Hetty Green. The machine is a unique one and was built especially for Col. Greene.

FISH SCARCITY BURNING ISSUE, SAYS HOOVER

Aboard Hoover Train, en route for San Francisco, Aug. 2 (AP)—More and better trout and less time between bites are regarded by Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee, as the "burning" issues in northern California, where he spent the last three days fishing.

The nominee so expressed himself before boarding his train for San Francisco, where he was due today.

On reaching Stanford University Hoover will give his acceptance address the final revision and then turn his attention again to the political campaign, which will be formally opened at the notification ceremonies in Stanford University stadium one week from next Saturday.

Hoover, his son Allan, his secretary, George Akerson, and his friend Thomas T. C. Gregory of San Francisco were so late in getting back to the Shasta Springs Hotel last night that those awaiting him there began to grow anxious and started telephoning about the country to locate the nominee. While the telephone operators were being kept busy the Hoover party drove up.

Members of the party disclosed that a single fish was caught during the day and that was hooked by Allan Hoover.

SMITH TO SEEK LOWDEN'S AID ON FARM ISSUE

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—After a two-hour conference today with George N. Peek, a farm leader from Illinois, Governor Smith reiterated that he stood on the farm plank of the Democratic platform and indicated that he had not yet worked out in his own mind how agricultural surpluses should be handled for the benefit of the farmer.

The Democratic Presidential nominee declared that in carrying out his plan, if elected, to obtain the advice of farm leaders and economists on working out the surplus problem he would call on Republicans like Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, as well as Democrats, to assist him.

At the breakfast table in his suite at the Biltmore, Governor Smith talked over the farm problem with Peek, who is one of the leading champions of the McNary-Haugen bill, vetoed by President Coolidge. After their talk the Governor issued a formal statement in which he made no reference to his views on the equalization feature of that legislation.

The text of the Governor' statement follows:

SMITH'S STATEMENT

"After my talk with Mr. Peek, I am more than ever satisfied that the Democratic platform soundly declares the fundamental basis for relief of the appalling agricultural distress which not only threatens the farmer himself but is destroying the farm market of ten billions of dollars for the industries of the country.

"Control of the sale of agricultural surplus is recognized by our platform as an essential need, its cost to be imposed on the unit to be benefited. That principle is fixed upon our platform on which I stand —only the details of its accomplishment remain.

"As I have said I shall immediately, if I am elected, ask the best farm leaders and economists to work out these details with me. I shall ask them to serve irrespective of locality or party, Republican, like Governor Lowden, as well as Democrats who have studied this problem, will be called upon by me for this patriotic service. I shall discuss this question at length in my acceptance speech."

ON YACHTING TRIP

The New York Governor and Peek, who has been in conference here for several days with Democratic leaders, including John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, had breakfast alone. After their informal conference, Governor Byrd of Virginia and Senators Swanson of Virginia and Gerry of Rhode Island called to accompany Smith aboard the yacht of William H. Todd, shipbuilder and friend of Mr. Smith. It was planned to stop on the Connecticut shore for a round of golf during the afternoon and to return to New York tonight.

Proud to Own "Lucky Boat" Cleveland Fished From

Pittsfield, Aug. 2 (AP)—J. Gardner Stevens, retired business man, is the proud possessor of the boat from which President Grover Cleveland used to fish when he summered in Tyringham.

Only special friends are allowed to fish from the craft, which is known in the Berkshires as the "lucky boat."

$1110 for Railway Lobby

The sum of $1110 for State House "lobby" expenses was revealed today by the Worcester Consolidated and Springfield Street Railways. The funds were paid Warren, Garfield, Wentworth & Lamson, attorneys.

ROBBED, SHUT IN ICE CHEST

Police today were investigating a case told by William Bevans, proprietor of a meat market on Boston ave., Medford, who claimed to have been locked into an icebox in his store while six cash register was robbed and his automobile stolen.

Bevans told the police he entered the house at closing time to help some meat and remained there for 45 minutes until Pablo Gallez of Sterling st., Somerville, a customer released him. Although there is a lamp which is near the door of the icebox, Bevans said he saw no one come into the store.

Personality Lost in Talk Film, Says Frohman

Bridgeport, Ct., Aug. 2 (AP)—Daniel Frohman, veteran theatrical producer, believes "the new talking movie never will take the place of the legitimate stage because they can never successfully reproduce the personality of the actor as it is brought out on the legitimate stage.

"There is something that is absolutely intangible, but has the strength to prevent the abolishment of the legitimate stage, and that something is the thing that makes us notice the one actor on the stage above all others, even perhaps the leader," Mr. Frohman said.

Mr. Frohman believes the talking movies will weed out many of the actors and actresses now most prominent in the movies, due to their lack of proper voice expression.

MANY BOSTONIANS AT FOREIGN RESORTS, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

New England Social Centers Well Represented at Popular Old World Summer Colonies

HOW BOSTONIANS DO MOVE ABOUT THE WORLD! BOSTONIANS IN PARTICULAR. New Englanders in general. Hotel registers all up and down the old world give evidence that New England's nomads are on the go. Their names appear up North, beneath the midnight sun; down South, across the Mediterranean, in the land of the pharaohs; East, in Shanghai, Tokio, Bombay; West, where Deauville's sophistication and Biarritz's scintillation draw the great and the spectacular of two worlds, the old and the new. Those who are abroad, those who have been, and those about to be—make up an enormous and interesting company. Their travel destinations are as varied as the design of a patchwork quilt.

MRS. ARTHUR DERBY OF BOSTON AND NEW ORLEANS BUYS "MODELS" IN Paris with which later to delight a ha ut monde clientele on this side of the water; Albert Felix Schmitt, artist, puts into enduring oils the visages of European minor royalties as well as the noblesse and exhibits under royal patronage in Paris, Pau and Madrid; young Alexander Whiteside travels abroad in the school boy way, not greatly concerned with smart resorts, but more intimately searching for old world antiquities, wonders, and atmosphere. Thus adding a veneer of foreign travel to American schooling.

SAVANTS ABROAD HIE themselves to cultural centers—Professor and Mrs. Albert Sauveur; Professor George B. Wesley; Professor and Mrs. Charles J. Bullock so have done. Wide-eyed debutantes, peering excitedly toward the autumn's high promises, weigh and consider the pros and cons of satins, tulle or velvets for the coming out. Miss Rosamond Sears with her mater, Mrs. Francis B. Sears, took the overseas trail early in June with that very object in view. Paris to the pretty social neophyte is the promised land flowing with debutanteish satin shoes and filmsy chiffons, a realm riotously colored, as rainbow tinted as the bud's expectations.

POPULAR AT NEWPORT CASINO
Miss Helen Michell smartly turned out for tennis at the Newport Casino.

PAUL BARON WATSON GOES TO PASS HIS SUMMER FAR FROM the kaleidoscope of society at play. He has a farm in Normandy. Miss Barbara Merriman, aspirant for stage laurels, forsakes home shores for London and Paris and a year or more of arduous training. Miss Jeannie Dupee seeks toward artistic expression, and so studies at the Fontainbleau Art School. The Jean Jacques Haffners, Prof. Haffner, Mrs. Haffner and two daughters, Miss Monique and Miss Antoinette, return repeatedly to their always beloved France for a summer interlude.

BOSTONIANS RUBBED ELBOWS WITH ROYALTIES IN WIESBADEN during racing week. The little spa was quite internationally popular, as was Baden-Baden, where the races filled the lovely town to overflowing. The names of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Watson of Boston were to be seen inscribed on the register of the Hotel Stephanie for all who wished to read. Mr. and Mrs. James Barring Woodruff had their Cologne abode at the Hotel Excelsior Ernst.

IN MUNICH AT THE TIME OF THE FESTIVALS ONE MIGHT HAVE found Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Andrews. While Mrs. Thomas Coles and Mr. Coles thought Berlin delightful for a midsummer sojourn, making their headquarters in the beautiful city at the imposing Hotel der Kaiserhof. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Fletcher chose the same hostelry for their Berlin stay. Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Powers at Bad Kissingen took in the tournaments over that spa's magnificent golf course. Lucerne, crossroads of so many European travels, has entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams Hawes, who are Bostonians abroad, and at Lucerne for horse show and tournament.

EN MASSE, THE F. L. W. RICHARDSONS SAIL ABROAD BOUND for Vevey in Switzerland, home of a famous boys' school. And quite a likely rendezvous is Vevey for the Richardsons, since there are a half dozen young sons to carry on the name. Miss Margery Richardson, peach-cheeked daughter of a handsome mater, idles through the land of the Dons with the paternal Richardson, while small brothers labor with tutors in Switzerland. Ireland's manifold beauties attract the Roger Warners. The past tense should apply, since the Warners intended to return this way not much later than early in August.

CHILD'S DOOMS WHEAT CAKES; MORE MEAT

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Minority stockholders and the hungry may see and soon their "hustle" with Childs' restaurants for more meat on the menus.

An advertising campaign will be conducted to emphasize the fact that lamb stew, beef stew, veal cutlet, roast lamb, beef and similar dishes are now served.

The making of wheat cakes in the windows by pretty girls may have been fine a few years ago, but it is gone by now, according to the minority stockholders' spokesman, Elihu J. Zwilling, a lawyer. "We believe that soda fountains could so profitably installed instead of the hot cake and muffin plant."

"The constructive work of Mr. Childs will stand," said Mr. Zwilling, "but we feel that the thing has gone too far. We have been trying to guide the public a little too much. In the opinion of myself and my clients, we have pushed certain fads a little too far on one hand, and have failed to take advantage of new opportunities on the other."

SAYS RESPECT FOR LAW IS BIG ISSUE

Williamstown, Aug. 2 (AP)—Respect for enforcement of the prohibition laws while they are on the statute books, fair play for the farmers and international co-operation were listed here today by Harry Garfield, president of Williams College, and chairman of the Institute of Politics, as issues upon which the voters of the country were entitled to opinions from candidates for office.

Dr. Garfield was making the convocation address at the opening of the eighth annual session of the Institute of Politics at Williamstown.

"The voters of the United States have come of age," he said, "and are thinking for themselves to the consternation of those who have heretofore assumed dictatorship of political action.

POLITICAL QUESTION NOW.

"It is true that prohibition is not a political question, but respect for law is essentially a political, a community question. A law may, of course, be changed, but a public official who uses the powers of his office to defeat or weaken the operation of an existing constitutional statute lessens respect for law and betrays a public trust. He has one imperative duty to perform with respect to such a statute and that is to enforce it.

PRAISES TREATIES.

"Fair play demands that a way be found to hold the balance even between agricultural and industrial workers. The question will be found to touch the tariff to the quick."

Observing that the presidential contest stimulates our interest in foreign affairs, Dr. Garfield said it was still wise to beware of entangling alliances, but co-operation with other nations he held necessary

LERNER WINS DANCE RACE TO BOSTON

"dark horse," quit the race in Westwood because of blistered feet, after having held second position from Pawtucket.

Lerner dropped 10 pounds during the dance, weighing in at 130 at the finish. His girl partners lost about five pounds each. During the contest they partook of nothing but orange juice and water.

The winner said he strained his ankle in Norwood and danced in pain the rest of the route.

Wiseman said he would protest Lerner's victory, claiming the latter had walked with his partners most of the way. Lerner said the charge was a damned lie, and he didn't care whether Wiseman protested or not.

FILING A PROTEST

With whom the protest would be lodged was a moot question, inasmuch as the Legislature has prorogued and the police took little interest in the affair other than to keep lanes clear for traffic.

Lerner's partner at the grand finale up Huntington ave., Stuart st., through Park sq. to Boylston to Tremont, was Beth Calvin, Hub dancer, who started the endurance contest with him in Providence.

Through the crowded streets she executed fancy steps, twirls and somersaults while Lerner, nearly in collapse, went mechanically about his business, able to do dancing.

Miss Calvin re-entered the race as Lerner's partner after she had fainted from exhaustion and excitement at Pawtucket. Though he danced with several other girls en route, she covered the greater part of the distance at his side.

Lerner himself suffered a partial collapse just after crossing the Dedham line into West Roxbury. He rested by the roadside while his fair partners splashed him with water.

Sleeper called a halt in Westwood. He sat down by the side the road and removed his right shoe and his right stocking and held a blistered foot to the morning sun.

"The dark horse fades with the coming of the light," he said.

LERNER COLLAPSES.

Lerner's partial collapse held up his party for 10 minutes.

"Where are we?" he asked when they had doused him.

"About nine miles to go," somebody told him.

"All right; let's go then," he replied with some of the fervor Nathan Hale must have used in his immortal declaration.

The Marathon, as it passed through Dedham into West Roxbury began to attract its first following of crowds. Small boys followed the dancers as the recruits trailed the Pied Piper; autoists stopped their cars to watch, bringing traffic to a halt.

State police on motorcycles did their best to keep the roads clear and wheels moving, but a jam resulted nevertheless.

LERNER IN THE LEAD.

"Come the dawn"—as they say—with a hot sun on the heels of a humid night to reveal to early morning workers probably the strangest cavalcade ever to wind its way over the Post road between the two historic cities.

In the lead stepped "Prof." Lerner, attired in a brilliant blazer that smote the sight a mighty blow, flannel "pants" a soiled gray from the road dust and black peppered with oil and tar.

His partner, Miss Calvin, danced bare legged and practically bare footed for all that was left of her footwear was a cobbler's misery.

BLISTERS ON HIS FEET

About a mile behind them, at North Attleboro, Sleeper still stepped along, in second speed, however, for the blisters were getting in their work.

Still farther in the rear came Wiseman, a little perturbed about making up the rear guard, but stepping high and handsome in a determined effort to overcome Lerner's lead.

Automobiles accompanied each party and dashed between them bringing to each contestant word of the progress of the others.

"Where's Lerner?" Wiseman asked, not missing a step by so much as a big toe.

"Where's Wiseman?" Lerner inquired.

Sleeper wanted to know where both were, but after a while was not interested.

DANCING OR WHAT NOT

Just what constitutes dancing may be something for the gods to decide, even as Sam Bernard dreaded.

"Lerner's not dancing; he's walking, charged Wiseman.

"Yeh?" inquired the "Professor."

It was truly a Marathon of the Dancing Dogs, hot dogs and weary dogs and dogs that needed hot water and a long rest when Park Square loomed upon the horizon.

It was only a few miles out of Providence that the girl dancers discovered that riders who were comfort in dancing in their bare legs than in wearing even the sheerest of stockings so the stockings were promptly removed.

The Lerner and Wiseman parties were accompanied by a dozen automobiles each. Only two lowly flivvers escorted Sleeper. In one of the flivvers was a youth of 16, who announced he was Sleeper's trainer. His work consisted in handing chopped ham sandwiches, milk and ginger ale to his charges.

Sleeper had only two dancing partners, Dorothy "Dot" Horn of Winchester and Ann Ambush of Brookline.

In Professor Lerner's party were six dancing partners: Beth Calvin, Dorothy Crowell of Somerville, Dorothy Hatch of Malden, Glory O'Connor of Roxbury, Bertie White of Dorchester and her sister, Gloria White.

Wiseman was also well supplied with partners. These included Flora Fontaine of Dorchester, Madelyn Call of Audubon rd., Mary Ryan of Center st., Jamaica Plain; Louise Gallant of Lynn and Ann Bowman of Parker st., Lynn.

ARRESTED 5 TIMES

Jackson Wales, a student at Harvard, has been arrested five times since the New Bedford strike started. He is out on $1500 bail and faces a year's sentence.

15 BABIES HIT BY PARALYSIS IN WALTHAM

Three more cases of infantile paralysis were reported in Waltham today, bringing the total to 13 in that city and two in Watertown. Two patients have died from the disease.

The latest victims are Francis E. Gorman, 18 months, of 83 Calvary st.; Salvatore Collura, three years, of 41A Calvary st., and Ethelyn Berrio, six years, of 24 Lyman ave. The Gorman and Berrio children were taken to the Waltham Hospital.

The first two children live in the general neighborhood where most of the Waltham cases have originated, but the Berrio child resides in a different section of the city.

State officials who are investigating the epidemic, were advised by the Harvard Infantile Paralysis Commission that convalescent serum treatment is to be distributed at the State House and Harvard during the summer.

The serum, found so effective last year in treatment of patients in the preparalytic stage, still has the serious element in store, the notice said in urging caution in its use.

It will be given to any physician without cost to the patient, at Harvard Medical School and the office of the State Commissioner of Public Health.

'RED PLOT' SEEN IN APPEAL TO GUARDSMEN

New Bedford, Aug 2—A typewritten circular urging national guardsmen now on strike duty to desert fell into the hands of the commander of the militia unit today and was turned over to the police who term it Communistic propaganda to foment revolt.

The appeal is the product of the Young Pioneers Communistic League, police say, and it is believed to have been distributed among the soldiers by three girls who were noticed mingling with them at the State armory, where they are quartered.

Descriptions of these girls have been given the police and a search for them is under way. The city authorities admit that a widespread investigation of the source of the appeal has been launched, but Capt. Richard Hoyle, commander of Battery E, 101st Coast Artillery Corps, the unit in question, refused to comment on any action he may be taking.

Scores of strikers today received jail sentences and were fined, including eight arrested today. Leaders again suffered heavily, getting sentences of six months each. These leaders have all been sentenced several times previously and one is J. G. Pinto, has been ordered to jail 11 times. An aggregate of two years stands against most of the leaders.

Two hundred cases came up today before Judge Milliken and all defendants were found guilty and, with appealing, were ordered to put up bail ranging from $100 to $2000.

Five women and three men pickets were arrested today when they refused to obey a police order to move along, in accordance with the announced intention of the authorities to stop mass picketing.

CHARGE SLAYER OF OBREGON IS 'TERRORIST'

Mexico City, Aug. 2 (AP)—Attorney-General Cerros Nieto in a statement made public today asserted that Jose de Leon Toral, assassin of General Alvaro Obregon, belonged to a terrorist organization headed by the Abbess Maria Concepcion Acevedo de la Llata.

The attorney-general, who is supervising the preliminary judicial examination into the slaying, issued his statement:

"I am convinced this group of individuals who directly or indirectly participated in Obregon's murder belong to a terrorist organization, headed by no other than Abbess Maria Concepcion Acevedo de la Llata, who is an intelligent woman and has been trying to mislead justice.

"This organization resembles the Russian nihilists or the Italian associations formed to attempt the life of Mussolini."

"I intend to hold a private conference with Toral in order to find a means to compel him to disclose the whole truth, because during protestations in behalf of the church he has not said all."

Aurelano Tora', father of the slayer, in an interview said no one had incited assassin to slay and that some one else's suggestion became never showed evidence of a bellicose nature. The father said Jose was a victim of pulmonary infections, has been suffering since childhood when he was ill with diphtheria and this was followed by progressive paralysis.

HUB VICTIM OF SEPTIC THROAT

Septic sore throat today claimed its first victim in Boston since the outbreak of the recent epidemic at Lynn.

Mrs. Helen Sprague Mackey, wife of Dr. Charles E. Mackey, died at the diseases in her home, 952 East Broadway, South Boston. She was taken ill nearly two months ago and appeared to have almost fully recovered when she suffered a relapse.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Sprague of 72 Brent st., Dorchester. She was 37 years of age and married Dr. Mackey about three years ago.

Requiem high mass will be celebrated Saturday at 10 o'clock at St. Eulalia's Church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

HERO MEDAL PRESENTED TO B. & A. R. R. ENGINEER

Because he stopped his locomotive after an explosion had scalded and knocked him unconscious, Elwin S. Ballou of 25 Arden st., Allston, Boston & Albany engineer, has been given a medal by President P. E. Crowley of the New York Central Lines.

Elwin S. Ballou

November 22, 1927, Ballou was at the throttle of a Boston & Albany coal-bound train approaching Worcester when the coupling collar on a steam pipe broke directly in front of him.

When he recovered consciousness and realized a terrible accident might occur he threw on the emergency brake which brought the train to a stop.

Ballou now is in command of the big new engine, No. 600, on display at South Station on Track 2. It is one of five passenger engines recently purchased by the Boston & Albany.

WIDOW OF FORMER ENVOY DIES ON VERMONT VISIT

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Alice Evans Francis, widow of Charles S. Francis, former United States Minister to Greece, ambassador to Austria, and for years publisher of the Troy Times, died today at Manchester, Vt. Mrs. Francis, before her marriage, May 23, 1878, was Miss Alice Evans, daughter of Evan and Helen Clark Evans of Ithaca. Her father was professor of mathematics at Cornell University, author of several textbooks on mathematics and an authority on Celtic literature.

MISSING BALTIMORE YOUTH IS SOUGHT

Superintendent Crowley of the Boston police received an urgent appeal from Chief Inspector George G. Henry of the Baltimore police Wednesday requesting aid in a country-wide search being made for 23-year-old Richard A. Warnecke, scion of a wealthy Baltimore family.

The youth left his home on June 17 and nothing has been heard of him since.

GOOD GIRL

By ROY L. FOLEY

Can a Girl Have Too Much Feminine Appeal?

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Nancy Deane, golden-haired, dark-eyed, who has lived her 18 years with David and Margaret O'Day, foster parents in Worcester, learns she is the granddaughter of the wealthy and aristocratic Montgomery Deanes of Boston and Brookline, who disinherited her father and do not even know of her existence. Through John Blair, a young man she has learned to admire, she secures a letter to Howard Westcott, manager of a mill in Boston. She meets Ginger Varden, a style model, who takes her to her boarding house and introduces her to her friends. One of these, Vic Flemming, makes love to her and asks her to marry him. Westcott, attracted by her beauty, offers her a place in the office. She is naively delighted, but both Ginger and Vic denounce Westcott.

That same evening while Vic, Jerry Durant, Ginger and Nancy are dining and dancing at the Pheasant, Westcott comes in; Vic picks a quarrel and they have a rough and tumble fight and are arrested.

The papers are full of the episode; Ginger hails it as good publicity and insists on getting Nancy a job at modelling with Ziegelbaum, her employer.

When Westcott sees Nancy the next morning he acts as though nothing had happened, takes her to lunch to the country, shows jealousy of Vic Flemming and kisses Nancy.

She feels drawn to Westcott and confides in him her story all except the name of her grandparents. He wonders who they can be, but she begs him not to try to discover.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER 16.

AS Howard Wescott's car swung along, Nancy looked at her wrist watch. The watch, with its leather strap, was a Christmas present from Mrs. O'Day the year before. The hands pointed to three. Three hours for lunch, the very first day she started to do office work, was pretty generous treatment, it occurred to her; and it probably would take fifteen minutes more before they got through the traffic to the factory.

She was wondering what kind of an expression Harriet Crosby would wear when she entered with "the boss" at that hour. She wondered if Howard Wescott would be bold enough to drive right up to the door with her in his car, help her out, and walk into his own private office with her, past the hundred or more clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers in the outer office.

The thought amused her. The tender and sympathetic treatment Wescott had accorded her that day seemed to make her feel safe. For the first time she began to really, truly feel the "independence" she was trying to school herself to acquire.

"Let them think what they want to," she decided.

Then she felt a delicious happiness at the thought of what Howard had said to her in the cafe. He had said that her hair was glorious, that he knew there was something different about her. He had kissed her, she could still feel the pressure of his lips against her cheek. She had protested against it, but the memory of it filled her with a sort of glow.

Nancy didn't know whether or not she was in love. She had never truly been in love before so she didn't recognize the symptoms.

Howard Wescott, sitting beside her, handling his car so expertly, was her opposite, physically, in every respect. He was as dark as she was blonde. He was dashing, aggressive, fearless, while all her life Nancy had been compelled to restrain herself, to deny expression to her emotions. She knew too well that when one has wealth one can do without criticism many things that are aggressive, dashing and fearless.

All these qualities had been suppressed in her. Now she had found a man who had never known any suppression, any fears. If he wanted a thing he took it, disregarding the consequences. It may have been that she was subconsciously aware of these things, and that her subconscious mind suddenly opened up a new world to her.

Neither had spoken for some time. Nancy's refusal to say anything but "no, no" to every guess as to her grandparents' home had set him thinking, evidently. Nancy glanced over and saw a half smile on his lips.

"A penny for your thoughts," she said.

"I was thinking that I shall never be satisfied until I find out who you and your grandparents really are," he answered. "I think I'd like to place you back in your natural setting."

"Mr. Wescott, if I discover you are making any such effort I'll leave your office and the city immediately," she replied, "the day may come when I'll tell you who these people are, but I'm not ready now. I want you to promise you'll never mention the subject again. Please."

It was Nancy's turn to say "I want," and she said it with such a tone of sincerity and finality that the quizzical smile died on Wescott's face. He looked down at her quickly. On her face was such a little scowl of decision that he said:

"Whew, but aren't you a fierce little devil when you want to be."

He changed his subject. They were getting down into the roomier house of the Back Bay and South End.

"By the way, where is it you live?" he asked. "I might as well drive you right home and I'll go back to the office. You can call it a day and tomorrow you'll be fresh as a daisy to learn all about your new job."

His words seemed too good to be true, but on second thought Nancy wondered what the sour Miss Crosby would say next morning. She asked that very question of Howard Wescott.

"What will Miss Crosby say?"

"Never you mind what Miss Crosby says. She's my secretary and it's a secretary's first duty to keep her mouth shut and mind her own business. Miss Crosby is an efficient machine. A very good secretary. That's all I ask of her."

How dense men are about some things, thought Nancy. Why, she

And Does a Duck Have to Learn the Art of Swimming?

Cambridge, Eng., Aug. 2 (AP)—Lack of knowledge in the art of lovemaking was deplored by Prof. A. E. Heath at the social hygiene summer school here, the professor taking the view that such knowledge was important.

"We should not dare to play the violin at a concert without knowing anything about it, and yet we don't seem to think it necessary to learn this important art of lovemaking," said the professor.

SCIENCE MAKES 'POISON MITES' INTO PERFUME

Chicago, Aug. 2 (AP)—Little invisible particles, so minute they cannot be seen under any conditions, have been harnessed by chemists to change naturally deadly poisonous substances into sweet smelling perfumes, dyes, valuable drugs and explosives.

Dr. Frank C. Whitmore, head of the chemistry department of Northwestern University, told the American Chemical Society institute today how chemists have mastered the secret of these minute particles, known as atoms, until as much is known about them and their actions as if they actually were seen.

"The chemist has learned enough about the atoms, which really are the building stones of which all material things are concerned, so that he can put them together and build them up into complicated materials with the same skill that the modern builder uses bricks, stone and mortar," Dr. Whitmore said.

In the field of organic chemistry, which is the chemistry of all substances containing carbon as an element, most progress has been made in studying the atom. Many millions of different materials contain carbon and chemists have studied them so thoroughly that they know exactly what kind of atoms, how many atoms of each kind and the way the atoms are fastened together in each of more than 200,000 of the substances, Dr. Whitmore said.

"Not only has the chemist found that by changing the numbers of the same kinds of atoms he can change the properties of the substances, but he has found that he can use not only the same kind of atoms but the same numbers of atoms and still get entirely different sets of properties by changing the ways these atoms are fastened together," he declared.

HARRISON PLEADS FOR "RELIGIOUS TOLERANCE"

Philadelphia, Miss., Aug. 2 (AP)—A plea for religious tolerance, particularly addressed to the Southern States, was voiced today by Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi. Of all sections, he said in a speech at the Neshoba county fair, the South by virtue of its historic background should be free from creedal prejudices. Moreover, he charged "those who today attack the Democratic Party because its nominee for President is a Catholic" with advancing "a new policy in our scheme of government" and with discrediting and challenging the teachings and wisdom of early Southern leaders.

LYNN DOCTOR ROBBED OF TROUSERS AND $2700

A Lynn thief who specializes in stealing the trousers of his male victims, as they lay asleep in their homes, made a rich haul, early today, when the trousers of Dr. Albert H. Covner of 132 S. Common st., Lynn, yielded $2700 in cash and considerable other plunder.

The trousers of William Creamer, taken from the bedroom of his home at 107 W. Neptune st. were less productive, containing a small amount of money and some papers.

TEXAS GUINAN SET UP RUM FOR RAIDER

CLUB HOSTS DUPED BY AGENTS

New York, August 2 (AP)—The inside story of how under cover prohibition agents hoodwinked Broadway today was made public in affidavits on file in federal court.

The reports of the agents revealed the easy manner in which the supposedly sophisticated hostesses, owners and head waiters of the city's foremost night clubs accepted them as "big business men" and allegedly sold them liquor for which 138 persons from 28 clubs have been indicted.

The high priced champagne the agents purchased was later found on analysis to be only charged white grape juice spiked with alcohol. The "rye" and "Scotch" whiskies were synthetic stocks of poor quality.

Helen Morgan, Broadway actress and one of the street's most popular hostesses, the affidavits said, appeared so sure that two of the agents were what they said they were—big business men from Dallas—that she offered to help one set up a night club in the southern city.

Texas Guinan, another affidavit said, invited the supposedly "big business men" to a party she was giving for a moving picture actress and also suggested they visit her brother "Tom's" night club.

HIGH-PRICED BOOZE

The affidavits give the names of seven agents who gathered evidence as Lon F. Tyson, Jacob A. Erdilla, Joseph L. White, S. Davis Benzell, R. F. Hargrove, John J. Mitchell and H. E. Herrick. The New York four were revealed as "Broadway's Four Horsemen," with Mitchell assisting and Herrick directing.

It was at the Frivolity club, the affidavits asserted, that the agents gained the prestige that won them welcome to the other clubs. The head waiter, "Albert," impressed by a liberal spending of money, presented them with a card to Helen Morgan's "Summer Home."

They had made visits there before, they said, but had been unable to buy liquor. But with the card from "Albert" they asserted they purchased champagne at $27 a quart, rye and Scotch whiskey at $16 a pint and a brandy at $15 a pint.

Other visits followed to Texas Guinan's Salon Royale, the Furnace Club, the Silver Slipper and the Feendale Club.

COLLEGE BOYS "CHEAP."

In one of their trips to Helen Morgan's club they were introduced to Miss Morgan, who joined them and ordered brandy. When they complimented her on the quality of the drink, she is alleged to have responded: "It costs us $8.25 a quart wholesale."

Miss Morgan, according to Tyson's affidavit, told them her club did not handle gin "because all the college boys drink gin. We have a lot of them here. They generally have only about $20 to spend in an evening and bring their own gin. They could not afford to pay our prices."

Miss Morgan also was quoted as saying that after the raid on her club last winter she had made an arrangement with "Campbell, where he doesn't bother us." She evidently referred to Prohibition Administrator Maurice Campbell, the agent added.

Tyson's itemized expense account says:

June 13—At Helen Morgan's: Drinks and supper, $66.60.

June 26—At Silver Slipper Club with Mrs. Tyson only: Cover charge, dinner and ginger ale, $17.80. Two quarts champagne, $36.

36 More Night Clubs on "White Way" Face Padlock

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Thirty-six additional padlock proceedings against night clubs and other resorts along the White Way and elsewhere in New York have been instituted within the last few days, it was learned today.

The action will result in summonses and complaints being served on owners and managers. No temporary injunctions or temporary padlocks have been ordered for any of the places on this list, which will not be made public until after service has been effected.

Kidnap Victim

Mrs. Lena Olcott, 23, of So. Kirby, Vt., mother of four children, was kidnaped by Wallace Garry, escaped convict.

NEAR RIOT IN CHURCH SIEGE

Lowell, Aug. 2—Fired with religious fervor, Rev. Consondine Harmantas and his little group of supporters remained in seclusion today in the Holy Trinity Greek Church, beginning their 12th day of voluntary imprisonment to defy an opposing faction and a court decree.

A near riot occurred last night when Pr. Harmantas suddenly opened the front doors facing Jefferson st. and stood on the steps. As though by prearranged signal, groups of his followers collected outside until the crowd numbered 400. Unable to handle them, the officers on duty there telephoned for assistance.

So "Skinny" Couldn't Work. Gains 21 lbs. and New Strength

Miss Dessie Ireson writes, "Before I took Ironized Yeast I was so 'skinny' I could not do my day's work. But now I can work hard all day and rest good all night.

"About 3 months after my weight was 126 pounds. Ironized Yeast gave me 147 pounds of good flesh. You would think I was another woman. I feel and look so much better."

Stop being "skinny" and always tired. Thousands have gained 5 to 15 pounds in 2 weeks with Ironized Yeast. Scrawny forms change to graceful curves. Blotched skin becomes clear and fresh. "Lazy" feeling vanishes.

Only when Yeast is ironized is it an wonderfully effective tonic to be needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. Pleasant tablets in a handy package for everybody. Never cause gas or bloating.

Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If after one month's trial you are not delighted, your money back instantly. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.00 to Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga. Desk 327-HB.

Jenney Ethyl (Jenney Gasoline blended with Ethyl Fluid) is particularly designed for high compressioned engines and cars that have an accumulation of carbon.

When motoring, stop at a Jenney station. It is there for your convenience—to give you helpful service and friendly attention.

For over a century —since 1812—the name "Jenney" has been a guarantee of quality.

JENNEY GASOLINE

You can't beat its response! Ashore or afloat, Jenney Gasoline and Oil assure you of more satisfactory power, efficiency and economy.

And if you should ask well known aviators what gasoline they depended upon in their trans-Atlantic flights, they would tell you "Jenney" —the gasoline that responds without failure.

Try a tankful today and find out what you've been missing!

GIRLS' VOICES HAVEN'T 'IT,' BOYS' HAVE

By FRED TOYE
Radio Editor

RADIO ANNOUNCERS (M), in spite of all the criticisms which have been hurled at their heads have, to a large degree, captured the imagination of the feminine sex. The suave voice of the master of the microphone is a modern counterpart of the armored swagger of the plumed knight of old. Every mail brings him mash notes. Many a maid languishes and sighs in ecstasy before the family loud speaker which brings to her the echoes of his beloved voice.

WHAT ABOUT WOMEN

WHY IS IT that Radio Announcers (M) do not share this popular devotion? Why are not radio station telephone lines clogged with calls from smitten males wishing to date them up? Why are there no studio-door jams ways laying the charming shopping gaids who tells all about the bargains in bunion cures and brassieres which she unearths daily. A large Boston institution employs a staff of girls to make certain telephone calls to clients, each girl calling her special group each day. The girls are far from prepossessing, their message is of the most formal business nature, and they spend only three minutes to a call. Nevertheless, the greatest problem in connection with the enterprise is that of gently discouraging amorous mals clients. The mob, one and all, insist upon becoming friendly with the girls whom they have only through the medium of the telephone. They are frankly charmed with the voices of these young women, picturing them selves each girl's appearance and personality. The men are high-grade executives and not given to haphazard adventures.

STILTED AND AFFECTED

WHO EVER heard of a female radio announcer being the win attentions by unknown male listeners? Not here is a group of verse girls, claiming no superiority of talent, and engaged in a normal business activity, who literally "choke them cold." One answer must be that the female announcer is an artificial personage. She is conscious of herself. She is stilted and elocutionary. She talks to her audience in the manner in which some parents think they must talk to their children. They emphasize syllables which are unemphasized in casual conversation. They employ unnatural rising inflections. They speak in long periods without the pleasing rhythm which cultured natural speech makes agreeable to the ear of the listener. In other words they are "nasty nice."

CAN EXERCISE CHARM

THERE IS A great deal of verse on in radio, but women must learn that radio announcing is first of all a business. The women's voice does not need to be displeasing. It can convey great charm, but that charm must come through unaffectedness and the forgetfulness of self in the thought for the duty of the hour. Instead of being indisputably the most unpopular feature of the radio, the woman announcer, carefully selected, could be one of the most in triguing.

NEW ORLEANS OPENS BIG VICE CRUSADE

New Orleans, Aug. 2 (AP)—Governor H. P. Long and Acting Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley found themselves cast in the role of principals today as an antigambling crusade began to yield a sizeable quota of arrests and convictions among chartered social clubs.

The threat of the Governor to that he would not appear, send troops to New Orleans to rid the city of gamblers, brought an invitation for the mayor to the Governor to appear before a grand jury if he knew of gambling here. To this the Governor speedily replied that it was none of his affair, and

'Lavish Feeding' Caused U. S. Olympic Defeats

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Under the full page streamer headline, "Secret of United States Olympic Failures" the Evening Standard today prints the following:

"Lavish feeding, it is suggested, has led to the undoing of the United States team in the Olympic games at Amsterdam, where at the start of today's sport they were still without a single victory in the track events."

Gene's Fight Plans Worked Perfectly

THIS is the last of a series of 12 articles by Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight champion, telling how he won the title from Tom Heeney.

By GENE TUNNEY
World's Heavyweight Champion

New York, Aug. 2 — There is little use in boxing for the man who says I told you so, as there is in any other line of sport or endeavor. So in some way I must refrain from telling you point-blank that Tom Heeney, the gamest, most courageous, and probably the finest sportsman I ever faced, went down to defeat in the Yankee Stadium a week ago tonight much in the manner that I predicted.

That was the night Tom Heeney got his chance to win the championship the crown that I won two years ago from Jack Dempsey in Philadelphia. I was the end of my second defense of the title I won from Heeney the event was bitterly fought. To me the fight was the most satisfactory I have had since I stopped Tom Gibbons and left the Carpentier.

A GREAT deal of the pleasure came to me with victory by way of a knockout. For the first time Heeney wanted to win that night more than anything else in his life. Yet he could not stoop to a sing

U. S. Completely Shut Out in 1500-M. Run

When Ray Conger of the Illinois A. C. loitered in last in the 1500-meter race today, 50 yards behind Lurau, the winning Finn, it marked the first event in the 1928 Olympics in which the United States has been shut out without a point.

Lurau ran the distance in 3 minutes, 56 seconds, without Percy Nurmi's old record. Nurmi is 43 points in the point total in the greatest number scored in one event while the two counted by Lloyd Hahn in the 800 meter run constitute the lowest number.

"Amazing—so many women must learn this from others"
—writes a Washington hostess

The embarrassment of this grave social offense is finally ended. This scientific sanitary pad is now treated by patented* process to end all offense.

WHERE smart women gather socially—or in business—even the most attractive are guilty of offending others at certain times. Yet they, themselves, seldom realize it. When told, they become miserably self conscious. They try in vain to overcome the difficulty by make-shift methods. Now science offers safe and certain relief from this fear.

*Kotex now scientifically deodorizes

Millions of women have learned to depend on Kotex within the last ten years. It has brought them better health, greater peace-of-mind under trying conditions. Now comes an added advantage. Kotex chemists have discovered (and patented) a process that absolutely ends all odors. After several years of research, the one remaining problem in connection with sanitary pads is solved!

No more bulky outlines

That awful feeling of being conspicuous because of the bulkiness of old-time methods is gone, too. Kotex pads are rounded and tapered so there is no evidence of sanitary protection when worn. You may add or remove layers of filler, as needed—a thing all women appreciate. There is a new softness, because both filler and gauze have been specially treated. Finally, Kotex is so easy to dispose of, eliminating all need of laundering.

Buy a box today, at any drug, dry goods or department store . . 45c for a box of twelve. Supplied, also, in restroom vending cabinets

*Kotex is the only sanitary pad that deodorizes by a patented process. (Patent No. 1,670,587 granted May 22, 1928)

Deodorizes . . . and 4 other important features:

1—Softer gauze ends chafing; pliable filler absorbs as no other substance can.
2—Corners are rounded and tapered; no evidence of sanitary protection under any gown
3—Deodorizes—safely, thoroughly, by a new and exclusive patented process;
4—Adjust it to your needs, filler may be made thinner, thicker, narrower as required, and
5—It is easily disposed of as an unpleasant laundry.

You'll agree these Bran Flakes are BETTER

YES, there are better bran flakes and Kellogg of Battle Creek makes them. Eating is believing. You get the zestful flavor of PEP. The nourishment from the wheat. Just enough bran to make them mildly laxative.

And how crisp they are! Serve them with milk and cream. Great for children because these better bran flakes make them peppy. Eat them any time. At grocers in the red-and-green package. Try them right away. You'll agree at the first taste these bran flakes made by Kellogg are better.

Pep Bran Flakes are mildly laxative. ALL-BRAN—another Kellogg product—100 per cent bran and guaranteed to relieve constipation.

Smart Women wear White—and use Whitex

. . . . how difficult it would be to follow Paris' newest call for white if there were no such product as Whitex. For white silks and woolens yellow so quickly from sun and laundering.

. . . . and only Whitex can prevent such yellowing—only Whitex can restore the original snowy whiteness to white silk and woolen sportswear, dresses, stockings, etc., that have become yellowed. Indeed, that new vogue for white has made thousands of smart women discover Whitex. And once they have used it, they discard dingy bluing forever.

. . . . Whitex, this fluid is unsurpassed for all fine white things—white linens and cottons as well as silks and woolens. Table and household linens, handkerchiefs, babies' clothes, men's shirts and collars are so easily kept white or restored to whiteness with Whitex. Just a little Whitex in the rinsing water—that's all! Nothing takes the place of Whitex. Get a package—today

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

"LONDON SOCIETY" Continued Story—1829 Version

SYNOPSIS—Sir Harry Dempster asks his wife if she will permit him to pay a social call upon his old sweetheart, Miss ——, who is a stranger in the city. The wife, Elsie, consents, leading Sir Harry to exclaim to himself, "How glad I am she is void of jealousy!"

"CHILDHOOD TRUST"

SHORT-SIGHTED Harry!—look back into that little room from whence you have stepped into the street.

The tiny frock has slipped from Elsie's fingers, and tears are falling fast upon it. Nick the expectant mother paces the floor.

What! she jealous of Harry? Oh, no, no!—but the bright, dazzling Miss ——, so talented, so gifted, so fascinating. Oh! what has Elsie to oppose the witchery of Miss——?

Only a sweet, childish face and a heart whose every pulsation was love—love for him who had won it. Oh, why did Miss —— come back to London? Oh, why did she ever come back? Such a happy dream Elsie's wedded life had been thus far! And now—

ONCE-OVERS

By J. J. MUNDY

WHAT are the possibilities of your mind?

Do you think you have reached the limit of your mental capacity? Because you think you cannot do better you are actually getting worse.

You have ceased to try new avenues of expression.

You do not read with an idea of learning new facts each day.

You have given up and locked yourself in a position beneath your ability simply because you do not want to put forth the effort necessary to hold the better job.

You are where you have few severe tests.

Occasionally you wish you might do something worth while.

At such times you sit down and try to evolve something practical for a few hours, but finally give it up.

You think you can't make your work valuable.

Isn't it ridiculous to make such slight tools of your brain now and be satisfied to let it end there?

Be fair to yourself.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR SEIZED TEXTILE PLANT

Stuart Young of Newark was appointed by Federal Judge Putnam to receive for the Passaic Worsted Spinning Co. of Passaic, N. J., one of the country's largest textile plants. An involuntary petition in bankruptcy, filed by three creditors, was followed by a petition of consent.

The Passaic Worsted Spinning Company was organized about four years ago by the late Christian Bahnsen shortly after he had purchased the old Gera Mills at Passaic. The concern was involved in the bitter strikes of 1912, 1919 and 1926. In 1918 the property was leased by A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, and sold at auction to Adolphe Lehmann & Co., New York banker, who operated it for William C. Grant, controller of English worsted enterprises.

INDIAN DROPS MAKING OF SMALL TAXICABS

Springfield, Aug. 2—Indian Motorcycle Co.'s experiment with taxicabs has been dropped following with drawal from service of taxis in Baltimore, Md., and Newark, N. J. Some time ago company sold several complete taxicabs similar to those in operation in Berlin, Germany. Cabs were found to be too susceptible to damage, and taxi rate wars with set prices but larger machines, it was found, made with the small machines, so that patronage fell off.

'WHEEZER' WILL BE NAMED TODAY

Henry Havelock Pierce, one of the country's best known photographers, William P. Long, chairman of Boston park commission, and Richard G. Mahoney, an expert photographer with Wald Studios unanimously selected Miller.

Three hundred bespeckled boys and their parents crowded back stage at the Orpheum for the judging. One of the nationally famous of the affair was the entire lack of freckles on the parents. The youngsters must have had red-headed grandfathers or other relations farther removed.

Several sets of twins are in the contest, including Al and Jack Kain of Mattapan, who are entered as "doubles" of "Wheezer." "They are both full of mischief," writes the mother, "and have already won two prizes."

Another set of twins entered are the little 3-year-old daughters of Mrs. McGonigle of Walden st., Roxbury, bury.

MOTHER ENTERS 3 CHILDREN

Mrs. Annabella Holmes of Everett, who has 12 children, has entered three of them. They are Helen, Merelta and Kenneth. The mother says all three have shown ability in acting.

Mrs. G. M. Devins of Dorchester, in entering her two grandchildren, wrote:

"I saw an "Our Gang" comedy a few months ago, and while watching the antics of "Jean Darling" was reminded of my youngest granddaughter, Ellen, she is such a mischievous child we call her "Tom."

With two members of the local "Our Gang" chosen, the task of selecting the other four will be a hard one, each of the remaining days this week.

The New England child most closely resembling lovely "Jean Darling" will be selected tomorrow. The judges will have their hands full in choosing a "double" of this lovable child, as hundreds are entered for this honor.

The same holds true with respect to "Mary Ann, whose "double" will be selected Saturday morning. More children are entered as "Jean Darlings" and "Mary Anns" than of any other principals in "Our Gang." Saturday will also be "Farina" day. All the dusky entrants are being groomed for the event.

GRAND PRIZE $1200

For those still unfamiliar with the details we repeat that the six New England children who are to be the judges at the Orpheum Theater this week will be eligible for the grand prize of $1200 in cash, the salary rate of $100 a week salary, while acting in "Our Gang," a year's vacation in Hollywood, and free round-trip transportation for winner and parents.

These six will also be placed in a local "Our Gang" comedy to be filmed in Metropolitan Boston, August 20, 21 and 22. This picture will be shown at the Orpheum during the entire week of September 3. All children entered in the contest, who do not win one of the first six honors, are invited to take part in the picture when it is filmed.

AIR MAIL PILOT STARK QUITS SERVICE AUG. 25

After flying the mail for almost a year for Colonial Air Transport, Inc., Howard Stark will quit the service Aug. 25.

Stark will go to Detroit, get a tri-motored plane and go barnstorming.

The five-cent airmail rate which went into effect yesterday produced 286 pounds of mail for Pilot Stark to transport to New York last night. This was an increase of about 200 pounds over the ordinary former load. Incoming mail today amounted to 51 pounds.

MEETING OF DIRECTORS AND MEMBERS OF THE STATE PUBLIC UTILITY INFORMATION COMMITTEE HELD N. E. L. A. CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Tuesday, May 15th, 1928

MR. EDWARD J. HULLAHEY, CHAIRMAN.

MR. H. SMITH: We have had some experience in Nebraska, where there was a General Electric Company branch that held out because one of the big holding companies, the largest contributor in Nebraska, is also supposed to be taking care of the General Electric Company contribution. But we have had very splendid support. While I am on my feet, I might say the best moral support we have had in Nebraska has been from the manufacturers' representatives.

I have done this: I have asked the manufacturers' representatives, when they have their travelling salesmen in — maybe 15 or 20 of them — to let me come in and talk to them. I think at one time, when I talked in Omaha, I suggested that they call their men "travelling evangelists". I suggested that when they go out to the country they take our story out to the country and get the reaction to the small towns on the utility problems, and when they come back to be Monarchs they can report here what they find out there.

I told one of them in particular, whom I knew made a certain territory, I told one of them in particular, whom I knew made a certain territory, and that we had a particularly stubborn newspaper man out in his community, and I asked him to call on that newspaper man when he was out there next time, and see if he could not get under his hide some way or other. He did so. He told the editor the lighting system in his office was inadequate, and by changing it a little bit he could make it more satisfactory. The editor also was having trouble with the big motor that was running his cylinder press in the basement. This chap knew off his coat, and bowtied off that motor, came up and wiped the grease off his hands, and that newspaper was in for him.

One kind of public utility gathering is becoming recognized as valuable and is floating increasing popularity. That is the meeting held at a university or other educational center. The benefit is unrecorded. It places the utility workers in favorable contact with the men who will be prospective employees. It gives a serious and studious setting to the deliberations. It eliminates the possibility of antagonistic newspaper heading with gatherings as meetings of monopolists. It ties in the practical with the theoretical and establishes a vital interest action by the practitioners of research. Universities are always glad to welcome such gatherings and extend themselves with efforts at hospitality.

HOW commercial travelers became "traveling evangelists" for the public utilities is told by Horace M. Dapis, former propaganda director in Nebraska, in this "inside" report of a national meeting of propagandists. Salesmen were used in a number of other States, the Rocky Mountain propagandist reporting that "more than 100 have been enlisted" in Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming to spread "correct information" in smoking cars and hotel lobbies.

Alfred Fischer (inset), former Michigan propaganda director, tells below why the utilities held meetings at universities. One reason, he says, is that they "gives a serious and studious setting to the deliberations. It eliminates the possibility of antagonistic newspapers branding such gatherings as meetings of monopolists." This report is an exhibit in the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of the so-called power trust.

POWER AGENTS SOUGHT ALIBIS

By M. L. RAMSAY

Washington, Aug. 2 — Power propagandists who met with one another in ferreting out alibis to defend their light and power rates against the low rates granted by city-owned plants, Federal Trade Commission records show.

The National Electric Light Association, dominant power lobby organization, served as a clearing house for "scientific" studies, technical records and propaganda attacks on municipal plants that proved privately owned plants were reasonable and those of city plants deceptive.

A light association office memorandum, from W. M. Carpenter, research statistician, to Paul Clapp, managing director, in the commission's propaganda investigation record, read:

"I am returning herewith certain correspondence in regard to the city of Winnipeg.

"OUTSTANDING SUCCESS"

"The municipal plant is an outstanding success of public ownership in America and we are going to be confronted with it to a great extent.

"I am endeavoring to get all the information I can so as to be able to explain later on, why it has been so successful and why they can sell electricity cheaper than similar concerns located in the United States.

"Any thought that we can make with this city for the purpose of trading information would be very much appreciated, as in such times as we can get our data completed on this."

FOR PRIVATE USE

Troubled by advertisements of a Polar Bluff, Mo., municipal plant, which included a "great saving," similar plans had brought to the people of Pasadena, Cal., and Seattle, C. B. Brenton, of the Missouri Utilities Company, appealed to Fred H. Rails, Missouri propagandist.

"I have thought possibly you can get your finger on some recent reports concerning each of these situations which would be of assistance to us for the time being," Brenton wrote. "We do not answer these advertisements openly in the paper, but we do tell our friends the true information, which seems to do the trick very nicely."

Brenton said he thought both plants had sold out to private utility interests.

Brenton replied:

"I regret to inform you that to date the Seattle and Pasadena and other municipal plants report nothing but progress and profit.

"As you are probably aware, there is an epidemic of rate reduction in the State. Some of the municipal plants are cutting the rates to a point where we cannot see how they exist, except out of the goodness of their hearts.

"Between you and me, I understand that two or three of the big power companies are also about to make very substantial readjustments of rates, uniting their small town consumers on a room basis."

This letter was dated April 5, 1928.

A HURRIED DEMAND

When the Knoxville News-Sentinel printed an article extolling the benefits to consumers from the Seattle plant, F. V. Underwood, general manager of the Knoxville (Tenn.) Power and Light Co., made hurried demand upon the light association for data that "gives a serious and studious setting to the deliberations."

Fred W. Herbert, director of the service department, replied that he was sending a "confidential copy" of "a report of our statistical department." He added:

"I wish you would look over this report on Seattle and return it to us just as soon as it has served your purpose, and use this information if you feel it is wise to combat the matter in your local papers."

BUTCHER WILLS 2 MILLION TO POOR, BUT IT'S IN 2178

Cleveland, Aug. 2 (AP)—Cleveland has been willed $2,000,000 trust fund by charity by a butcher who sold meats from a little stand in the Central Market House for 50 years, but interest wizards have figured it might by the year 2178 before the poor receive the whole income from the fund. Fred R. Ralls, the butcher, left $1000 in trust, with orders to build it to $2,000,000 before it reaches that sum a part of each year's income will go to needy persons to be selected by the charity board of the Elks' lodge here.

NATIONAL POLICIES OF THE HEARST NEWSPAPERS

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State, but State to have less than two Senators. A reapportionment of Congressional representation immediately after every census, or in case of failure of Congress so to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.
3. A separate Department of the Army, the Navy and of the Air Forces, all united under a Secretary of National Defense.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish illiteracy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of the President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

Dance Marathon

Well, It's the Silly Season

Announcement having been made that two men and groups of young women are "dancing" their way from Providence to Boston, our hope is that no Boston Common squirrel is missing from his favorite tree.

We entertain the merest shadow of a suspicion that someone craves free advertising, in large portions. That does not worry us so much as the likelihood that the good brothers and sisters of the International Order of Worriers will be writing in about the "evils of the age in which we live," the "loose standards and lax conduct of the young."

Stop worrying.

Only last month a blind girl, Ruth Cohen, was graduated from the Classical High School at Worcester.

A New Bedford young woman of 23, born in the Azores, has just completed her first year in the Women's College at Brown University. She toiled 6½ years in the mill in order to pay her way through high school.

Dance marathon? A New Hampshire boy, Chesley Durgin of Lee, anxious to attend the seventh annual Strafford County Older Boys' Conference at Rochester, had no means of transportation.

The Durgin place is off the railroad, 20 miles from Rochester. Chesley oiled his bicycle and made the trip over roads which in April were nothing to brag about.

And don't forget General Edwards' testimony: "I had thousands of Lindberghs in France with me. There are Lindberghs in every group of youngsters, waiting to hop off to fame if the opportunity presents itself."

So, on with the dance marathon, which is neither dance nor marathon, but do protect the dear little squirrels.

No Mosquitoes?

Blessed—Because Enlightened—Brookline!

Equal parts of olive oil, oil of tar, oil of cedar and oil of citronella will repel mosquitoes, while the itching of mosquito bites may be relieved by touching with tincture of iodine, or peroxide, or glycerin, or by rubbing with wet soap, or by bathing with a handful of saleratus in water, or a tablespoonful of ammonia in a pint of water, or by smearing over with zinc oxid-boric ointment.

A wordy paragraph, which may be read with interest in some parts of Greater Boston, but NOT IN BROOKLINE.

After a campaign which has been continued over a great many years, Director Nyhen of Brookline's Division of Fly and Mosquito Control believes victory is sighted. Brookline is approximately rid of Mr. and Mrs. Mosquito.

In the "richest town in Massachusetts," no one is silly enough to believe that the place to look for mosquitoes is in weeds, or bushes or tall grass.

"Mosquito control is a combination of entomology and engineering. There are three general ways of getting rid of the pests. One is by filling in low lands. Another is by proper drainage. And the third is making stagnant water unsuitable for the breeding of mosquitoes by stocking it with fish. Brookline brought gambusia, the mosquito-eating fish, all the way from Savannah, Ga."

Mrs. Mosquito presents several hundred baby mosquitoes every ten days or two weeks. All she needs is a discarded tin or a pop bottle, partly filled with water. If there is no stagnant water in which they can wiggle the mosquito babies never grow up.

Brookline has chased the mosquito away because the Brookline fight was conducted scientifically and systematically. Any town can do as much which will follow the Brookline method. First, make a survey; then drain, empty, screen or oil every reservoir of standing water, big or little.

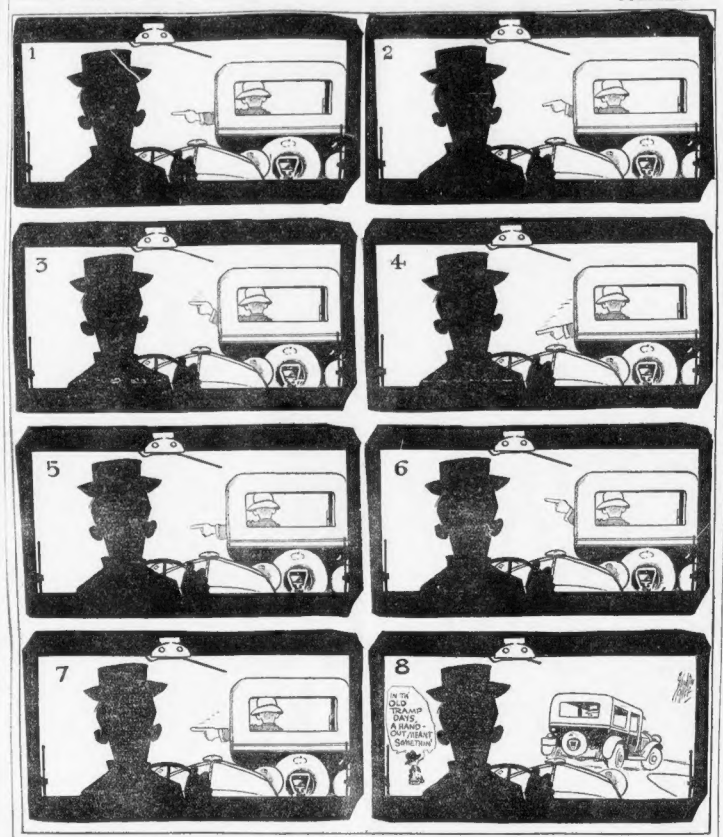
By FRANKLIN COLLIER



INTELLECTUAL LIFE AT COLLEGES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

It is refreshing to note that a memorandum from the Student Council has been addressed to the university authorities at Yale formulating a series of reforms upholding the proposition that a college is primarily a place for study, and only incidentally for social and athletic recreation.

This will be refreshing to a number of fathers who are digging in to pay the expenses of their sons at school and heretofore have been worried because those sons seem to be more interested in sports and in social advantages than in intellectual improvement.

Of course every healthy boy is interested in athletics and is anxious to form proper social connections. But the general impression prevails among fathers that boys ought to go to school to improve themselves from the chin up and not from the chin down.

It has been too often the case that boys have attached a social stigma to those who get class marks higher than C. Those who go in for study have been characterized as "sharks" or "grinds." Reference to one's studies in social life has been looked upon with disdain and the only thing to be boasted is a place on the football team or the rowing crew.

Of course a boy is a healthy animal and he doesn't care to be subjected to intellectual snobbery, but at the same time, this New Haven memorandum asserts, a college finds its reason for being and its prestige in the achievements of the intellectual minority among students.

It has been generally presumed that the youth of the country is somewhat wild and is out for a good time only. Those who emphasize the things that are intellectual in any group of people must necessarily be in the minority, but it is refreshing to see that this minority has been coming into better repute during the last 15 years. There are probably quite as many serious-minded youths in the country as there ever were. Youth is not all out for a wastrel life. There still remain quite a number of the elect. And on the whole the prospect for a better world in the future is bright.

This memorandum suggests that after the first two years the men who are assiduous in their studies are to be separated from those who are going in for a good time and barely enough study to get by. The honor men's instructors should be largely tutorial and they should have the best men on the faculty.

It is needless to say that this proposal of the undergraduates has the entire sympathy of the faculty.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

SHALL Wifey punch the time clock and report on schedule to Friend Husband?

"NOT IF SHE EARNS HER OWN LIVING AND HELPS TO PROVIDE FOR THE FAMILY!" says Superior Judge Henry M. Willis.

It was the case of SUSIE versus HENRY—and both of them hopping mad.

Susie—who is also Mrs. Henry—had a job. A job where she had to work late at night. Or, so she said—as job holders have said for lo these many eons. But somehow the explanation didn't go over so big with Henry. And the more he heard it the less he liked it. So he headed for court. And Susie stepped right along with him.

"I'm head of the family," said Henry. "When this woman of mine keeps coming in late I feel I have a right to know where she's been. And, she tells me, it's none of my business."

"Listen to him rave," answered Susie. "I have a job. He's just mad because I earn more money than he does and he wants to show off. I had to work late every night and he nagged me all the time to find out what I had been doing."

Did not Henry get the sympathy of the court?

Yes, he did NOT!

"I guess we'll have to learn that old-fashioned husbands who rule the roost are passe," said Judge Willis. "When a woman goes out into the world and earns her own living and helps to provide for the family, then it's her own business what she does. And if her husband inquires she has a perfect right to tell him that it's none of his business."

Plenty of people are going to groan at that decision of Judge Willis. Plenty of people are going to say that humanity has gone to the dogs because men are no longer heads of the homes. But do YOU think so? I don't.

Much of the "head of the house" advantage depended on the mere fact that the man held the job and the pocketbook. Authority like that was bound to go when the wife became economically independent. And that thing was a good thing. Authority that BUYS ITS WAY isn't very noble or dependable. The only reliable authority is the kind that can bring lasting joy between a man and a woman is that relationship which is based on voluntary trust and loving co-operation.

If a husband has so little claim on a working wife's loyalty that he needs a court to enforce it, then it is time he snapped out of his pipe dream and acted his age.

Jobs are raising Cain with marriage at present, but in the long run they will do a lot of good. They will make men and women face the truth about each other and about love. And until we do that we'll never have a marriage worthy of the name.

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—The modern theater owes much to the buskers of an unregenerate past. The busker flourished in hell-roaring days of Nigger Mike Salter, The Flea Bag, Piggy Donovan's, Steve Brodie's and other sawdust carpeted joints on the Bowery.

The buskers were gutter gamins who danced and sang for pitched pennies in the bleezy back rooms of beer saloons. A few of the ilk Charleston and Black Bottom on sidewalks in the Forties uptown, but most of them vanished with the saloon.

Many buskers are today feather-footed dancers and silver-throated singers we now pay $5 a seat to see and hear. George White in the days he was known as "Swifty the Messenger" in the Tenderloin was a busker. So was Izzy the Singing Waiter before he became Irving Berlin.

Harlan Dixon was also one of the migratory tribe. The list is long and many are a little reticent about the early struggles, now that their names are hung up in lights. There are two famous female dancers and a comedienne who began as buskers.

The busker began his circuit of the barrooms shortly before midnight, when customers, waxing a little mellow, were liable to be loose with their change. He usually carried his own orchestra—a tattered companion who was adept with the harmonica.

He moved from dive to dive, doing his stuff for humanity's scum until the sun cast a bleary eye over the hectic revels. The busker at 12 knew more of the seamy side of life than most men at 70. He heard the coarsest in conversation and the foulest in epithets.

He knew the cellar haunts of burglars and the reception rooms of unspeakable hordes. And it is almost incredible so many came through the consuming fire unscorched. Three former buskers, incidentally, are today rated as millionaires.

THERE is a long list, too, of successful theatrical producers who began their careers as ushers. The alert usher, if not too desperately in love with his uniform, learns more of the enthusiasms and reactions of an audience than any other person in the theatre. They learn to know exactly the public's entertainment taste which is invaluable to a producer.

MANY have an idea all restaurants on the Bowery are little dirty spoon holes in the wall with bare tables, scar-faced waiters and menus frosted on front windows. There are several cafes there, however, that are almost as smart as will be found uptown. Waiters are immaculately groomed, there is a silence that is dignified and such dishes as "sole meuniere" and "pommes soufflees"—I don't know either—are listed.

PROBABLY the biggest electrically lighted cross in the world will shortly twinkle on New York's hardest boiled thoroughfare—Broadway. It will be a forty-two foot structure topping a new skyscraper church. It is noticeable churches in the Broadway section are often better filled with regular attendants than churches elsewhere in the city.

AFTER all it is not Broadway that is entertainment mad, but the people who go there. Broadway merely purveys to the pleasure loving. A large percentage of Broadway merchants live in the country and go in for simple suburban pleasures.

A MOVIE caption similes: "The crowd moved slowly like a cow through the village streets." The cow I used to lead from pasture must have been part gazelle. She took me home so fast every evening I got so I didn't bother to touch third.

ness, and so will millions of sons and daughters all over the country.

That Amelia Earhart's mother should have lived to see her daughter's triumph, and especially that she should have lived to have that daughter back safe in her arms, is a pleasure to the entire nation.

And here is a curious difference between mothers and fathers. You can imagine Amelia Earhart's mother saying, "My girl takes after her father. She has his courage. I knew she would succeed, for with such a father she had it in her."

If it were a young man that had come back from a flight across the ocean, the proud father would have said, "Chip of the old block. He takes after me." And you probably wouldn't have heard very much about the mother.

The angels must laugh at the vanity of fathers and their foolish desire to have nothing but sons when daughters are better.

Gaming Worse Than Drug

Fortunate New Zealand

The State Full Court and the Federal High Court of New Zealand both declare illegal all betting on grayhounds and electrical hares. Fortunate New Zealand. There they not only SAY a thing but mean it, something we know nothing about here.

Have not grown men a right to bet if they choose? Perhaps, but have other men a right to tempt their brothers with foolish electric hares?

We forbid the maintaining of opium joints and forbid drug peddling. Everybody approves. For one family ruined by drugs, one hundred have been ruined by gambling. Ask the women.
